Dear Dr. Guze:

Please allow us to add our names to those local supporters of UCR's initiative to expand the existing two-year UCR/UCLA Thomas Haider Program into a full four-year School of Medicine.

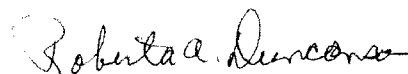

We both graduated from UCR in its earlier years, and are proud to have returned to the area to practice and raise our family in the area. We truly believe that an expanded medical teaching program at UCR will ultimately help to lessen the impact of the predicted physician shortfall over future decades.

The current economic realities make this project even more challenging, but the support within the community is outstanding.

Sincerely,

Robert L. Duncanson, M.D.
